Mânava! Hospitality First!

Innovative brand new approach to hotel software

"Mânava" (literally, prestige or power residing in the viscera) represents the seat of great emotions, sentiments and sensations, what Westerners call the heart. Hence, when a Tahitian greeted a visitor by saying "mânava!" he opened his house, his home and above all his heart. The guest was then obliged to accept food and lodging, but also-and above all-to share the good times and the bad times his host lived through on a daily basis. The visitor was welcomed, pampered, but roles reversed and in turn the guest became the host who greeted and welcomed. From then on he was asked to become a receptacle himself.
